PRACTICAL DETAILS

Projected date of completion:

Anticipated length (words):

Do you hold the copyright? Do you envisage Open Access publication for the work, or any specific chapters if it is an edited collection? [Note that copyright in an edited collection will pass to the Publisher; in a single author volume it will be retained by the author]

Does it include copyright material for which fees might be payable? These could include illustrations, maps, etc. Please give details. [It is normally an author's responsibility to obtain permissions and pay fees; please be aware that if Open Access publication is required, this must be made clear to the copyright holder]

Are there any illustrations? If yes, how many? Is colour printing is needed for any of them? [If so, it is unlikely that we will be able to produce the book unless funding can be procured from another source to help defray the costs of colour printing at an acceptable quality.]

Has any of the material been published already? If so, where? [We will not pay for republication rights to any previously published material]

Is the book being considered by any other publisher? [We will not normally consider projects that are simultaneously before another publisher]

If the book is an edited collection, have all the contributors been approached? How much of the work has already been written? Please give details if the work stems from a project or conference.

If you are aware of any competing titles, please give details and state how yours will be different.

If you can, please recommend names (with contact details if possible) of potential qualified reviewers who could assess your work.

Once we have assessed the information provided in this form, we will be in touch. Please contact us again if you do not hear within a month.
